HORSES COMING THIS WAY

BUT WILL KEEP GOING TO TAKE PART II THE JUAREZ MEETING.

Fifteen of the Livingston and Goldblatt Horses in the String with Iron Mask at the Head-Mott the Stable Jockey.

M. Goldblatt will leave Cincinnati tomorrow on his way to Juarez, via Chicago, in charge of a string of fifteen horses belonging to himself and Jefferson Livingston, which are to race at the winter meeting on the Mexican track. The band is made up of the well-known racers Iron Mask, Othello, Charmeuse, Gold Color, First Degree, Royal Interest, White Crown, Cossack, Kris Kringle, Sosius, Obolus, Ball Band and three yearlings. Passage from here will be over the Rock Island route.

route.

Mr. Livingston has leased the services of the competent rider A. Mott from P. M. Civill to ride his horses at Juarez until the close of December. The boy will then go to New Orleans to ride there for Mr. Civill.

The rest of the western division of the stable are now at Louisville in charge of trainer Herman R. Brandt. To these will soon be added the Livingston horses now in the east in charge of Phil Chinn.

Mose Cossman is to conduct to New Orleans for delivery to trainer W. Hurley a division of the E. R. Bradley stable, which will be raced at the coming Crescent City meeting.

MUCH RACING PROSPERITY IN CANADA.

Of sports, racing alone has prospered in Canada during the disastrous year and it, if not equal to the best, hais in cases been as successful as ever, and even more so. The wagering has not, perhaps, been as brisk and heavy as it has been, but even in that respect there has been but little falling off. Montreal has seen more of it than any other cases of the sport than in any other year, has seen more of it than any other than the property of the sport than in any other year, has seen more of it than any other year, has seen more of it than any other year, has seen more of it than any other year, has seen more of it than any other year, has seen more of it than any other year, has seen more of it than any other year, has been wondrous. It is not so many years since half a dozen places in Canada saw more of the sport. Old Blue Bonnets languished and died for jack of support, finally going over to the railways and bricks and mortar, the juggernauts of advancing time. Bel Air went practically the same way and for the same case, and new there are no fewer than half a dozen tracks successfully doing business and giving in all eighty-four days' racing in the year, as compared with forty-two in Toronto, fourteen each in Hamilton, forteen and Windsor gave more not be the same way and for the pass-tracks with the same way and for the same the same way and same way and for the same way and for the same way and f

TWENTY LEADING AMERICAN SIRES OF THE PRESENT YEAR

The close of the racing of the month of October found Broomstick still safely intrenched in first place among the twenty leading sires of the year, with every prospect of retaining his proud position. In the course of the month's racing he lost about $3,000 of his advantage over Star Shoot, but from now on values to be raced for will be so small that it does not seem probable the latter will be able to overhaul him. At the same time the latter is the only other sire possessing a chance to displace him and has so many representatives in active racing that it will not be at all surprising if the finish between the two should be closely drawn. Ogden has done quite well and is a good third, sharing with Broomstick the distinction of Laving two representatives in the list of winners of $10,000 or more, one being the leading three-year-old of the year and the other the fiect and staying mare. Star Jasmine. The other sires in the list of twenty are about as at the end of September, and their standing and the earnings of their progeny are:

HOLIDAY'S DAY OF VICTORY

DEFEATS SHORT GRASS IN THE FEATURE RACE ON PIMLICO'S CARD.

The English Colt Benevolent Takes A Race and Is Promptly Bid Up-Tribolo and Stellarina Claimed When Beaten.

Baltimore, Md., November 5.—Archibald Barklie's Holiday accounted for the Govans Handicap, the feature race at Pimilico this afternoon. He was ridden by J. McTaggart, made all the pace and beat Short Grass by three-quarters of a length.
Short Grass was a heavily backed favorite, but Butwell made the mistake of keeping him too close up in the early running, and when called on in the homestretch he was unable to respond with his usual burst of sneed.

Interesting contests were in order and the large crowd present enjoyed the sport. Benevolent, wirner of the fourth race, was bid up $805 over his entered price of $800 and was bought in. San Louis was responsible for the bidding.

There were two claims in the third race, Emil Herz taking Tribolo for $850 and the Mizpah Stable lost Stellarina to J. W. Hedrick, Jr., for the same price.

J. O. Byrne purchased Hedonist after his race today and will ship him to Cuba to take part in the winter meeting at Havana.

The club's share of the runup money today will be added to the purses tomorrow and no purse will be of less value than $700.

Jockey Carroll, who is looking after the string that W. R. Coe purchased during the past summer and fall, came up from Belmont Park to enjoy a day's racing. Carroll reports that the Coe horses in splendid condition and he regards
Mr. Coe's English importations highly.

The horses Rustling Brass and Laird o' Kirkcaldy, which were missing from the Sam Louis stable for a couple of days, were found five miles from their stable yesterday. Trainer Burttschell had the pair turned out in a paddock adjoining his barn and, it is thought, that some one opened a gate and turned them loose.

J. W. Pangle has acquired the contract on the apprentice rider C. Watson and will take the lad to Cuba with him this winter. Watson rode several races for T. J. Healey, who predicts that he will develop into a good rider.

John Sanford, who has been taking part in the Maryland meetings, left for his home in Amsterdam, N. Y., this afternoon. The Sanford ho horses. Mr. Mitchell has been quite ill for some time and wishes to retire from the sport, hence the sale.

Captain W. F. Presgrave has purchased the filly Lady Atkin, by Jack Atkin—Grall, and will retire her to the stud at his farm at Red Bank, N. J., where she will be mated to Dalhousie. Capt. Presgrave bred Grall, which was a frequent winner.

ROYALTY IN RACING MATCHES.

Matches often were run under royal patronage. So far back as 1377 the prince who became Richard II. seems to have been beaten in a match against the Earl of Arundel—"owners up"—and afterward to have bought the victor's horse for a sum equal now to $20,000. King Charles II. himself rode his horse, Woodcock, in a match at Newmarket in 1671, and was beaten. Even the austere King William III. ran a horse in a match for a stake of $10,000, while Queen Anna ran several horses in her own name in matches at York and at Newmarket. The future George IV. ran a memorable match against time when twenty-two years of age, riding from future George IV. ran a memorable match against time when twenty-two years of age, riding from Brighton to London and back (112 miles) in ten hours, on the same horse, as it appears.

CHANGES LIKELY AT DORVAL PARK.

Montreal, Que., November 5.—That there will be several changes in the management of the Dorval Jockey Club, which also means the Dorval Park and Amusement company, at the annual meeting to be held early next month is now practically assured. $5,020 that one or two changes had already been made and that one or two changes had already been made a

New Orleans, La., November 5.—The "Dempsey Special" from Latonia arrived yesterday afternoon after a record run and the 120 horses were immediately transferrred to the Fair Grounds and put into quarters. The consignment attracted vast attention all along the L. & N. road and in some of the cities where brief stops were made moving picture operators got busy with their cameras. The train's arrival in the Crescat City attracted a big gathering to the station and the horsemen were given a hearty welcome.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF.

Jockey F. Robinson had the mount on Black Broom in the last race at Pimlico Wednesday.

The thoroughbreds purchased at the recent Kentucky sales for Robert Davies of Toronto have arrived at the Thorncliffe Farm of their owner.

C. A. Bergin, a Kentucky newspaper man, is in Chicago on his way to El Paso, where he will represent a group of newspapers during the coming meeting at Juarez,

GEORGE WASHINGTON AT THE RACES.

President Wilson in his "At Home in Virgina" has given some interesting sketches of the great first president of the United States of America. Among other things he says: "Washington loved horses and dogs with the heartiest sportsman of them all. He had a great gust for stalking deer with George Mason on the broad forest tract around Gunston Hall, and liked often to take gun or rod after lesser game when the days were dull; but best of all he loved a horse's back and the hard ride for hours together after the dogs and crafty quarry—a horse that put a man to his points to ride, a country where the running was only for ridose who dared. His own mounts could be nowhere bettered in Virginia. He loved a game of cards in almost any company and paid his stakes upon the rubber like any other well-conducted man of his century. He did not find Annapolis, or even Philadelphia, too far away to be visited for the pleasure of seeing a good horse race or enjoying a round of balls and evenings at the theater, to shake off rustic dullness or a too constant stay at home. In 1770 he was with Governor Eden, of North Carolina, at the Jockey Club races near Philadelphia, no doubt relieved by the news that all but the tea tax had been repealed. The next year it was the races at Annapolis that charmed him: and in 1773 Jackey Curtis held him in Philadelphia on the same errand. It was wholesome to be thus calmly in pursait of diversion in the Intervals of trying business. It bespoke a hearty life and a fine balance in the man."

WINGFIELD'S ENGLISH IMPORTATIONS.

WINGFIELD'S ENGLISH IMPORTATIONS.

The horses purchased in England for the Nevada breeder, George W. Wingfield, reached New York in safety and good condition last Wednesday. The band was made up of the four-year-old Honeywood, the three-year-old Polistena, and eight yearlings, four colts and four fillies. Of this latest accession to our thoroughbred resources, a New York writer, who inspected them, says:

"It is understood that Honeywood will be kept by Mr. Wingfield for a private sire. His breeding is particularly rich, the male line running through Polymelus, Cyllene and Bona Vista to Bend Or, with Isonomy, Lord Cliftden and Toxophilite (the sire of Musket) figuring in the same generation in his sire's pedigree. Honey Bird, his dam, runs back through Friar's Balsam and Hermit to Newminster and Touchstone, while Breadhlane by Stockwell introduce a triple cross of that rich combination of The Baron and Pocahontas which has done a world of good to both English and American pedigrees.

"Another noteworthy individual is the bay filly Polistena, three-year-old, by Polymelus—Imola by St. Hilaire. Besides being a splendid and racy-looking individual, this filly has the distinction of being more than a half-sister to the hero of the English turf for the current year, Pomern, triple-crown winner and a great colt for any year. Polistena is a large and rangy filly, which looks like a real race horse from any angle. She is a filly of exceptionally-high finish and has splendid size and substance, grand bone and unusual muscular development just where a good race horse needs it. This filly has shipped finely and, as she is perfectly sound, it is expected that she will race next year.

"The largest, and upon the whole; the most impressive of the eight yearlings which superintendent Guilliams purchased at Newnarket, is a big bay colt by Santry out of Trevi by Love Wisely. This is believed by many to have been the largest yearling in England this year. Indeed he looks more like a large and well-developed two-year-old than like distinct masculine type, but so compactly has bee been put together that one does not a first realize what a big colt he is. He is a deep, rich bay with black points excepting one hind pastern, and possibly a small star, but in a general way he conveys the impression of being solid colored.

"Those familiar with English pedigrees will realize that this youngster is richly bred in fashionable strains, and all in all, he will be apt to win more admirers among the horsemen who look over the Wingfield shipment than will any of the others included in these eight yearlings, and there are some choice ones in the lot, too.

"Another of the yearlings which will be much admired is a large bay colt, liberally marked with white, and showing rather more than usual agressiveness and activity when shown on the halter. This fellow is by the popular English sire, Fowling-piece, dam White Lilate by Springtield. Any person at all familiar with English pedigrees cannot fail to realize that this is a richly-bred colt. tracing back to Musket, the sire of Carbine, through his sire, and to Springfield through his dam. Besides being finely bred, this colt is a grand individual. He has abundance of range and weight; indeed he is an exceptionally large yearling, and then, too, he is well balanced and highly finished. His development of bone and muscle is surprising for a yearling, and he has the outline of a race horse and a stayer.

"The next yearling shown was a gray or roan colt by Grey Leg out of Bernina by St. Serf. This is a colt of good size, although considerably lighter than his two stable mates already referred to. He is a trim, racy-looking colt of high finish and, according to present appearances, he should be one which would come early to hand and in winning form at that. He has been named Mt. Blanc.

"The next animal shown was a bright golden chestnut filly liberally marked with white. This is a trim, racy-looking colt of high finished of the strain strains of them.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

The official statement issued at Berlin yesterday concerning operations in Serbia said: A new movement to cut off the retreat of the Serbian army is reported by the Overseas News Agency. The Austrians are said to have begun an attack along the western border of Montenegro, in which country the Serbian forces are expected to seek refuge. These attacks are being made, the news agency says, to the east of Trebinye, in Herzegovina, about forty miles north of Cattaro. Thus the Montenegrins are being threatened from the west, near the coast, as well as from the north, where fighting has been going on for some time. The news agency points out that the Serbian retreat into Montenegro is made still more difficult by the junction which has been effected between the forces of General von Koevess and the Austrain troops which have invaded Serbia from Bosnia north of Vishegrad. It is officially reported that the Bulgarians have completely defeated, at a point northeast of Prilip, the French forces, which were landed at Saloniki. Part of the French contingent was routed, and the others were made prisoners. The first of the French prisoners have arrived at Kustendil. Advances all along the line by the Teutonic forces invading Serbia are announced in today's official statement by army headquarters. The capture of 2,700 Serbians is reported. We have taken the Serbian town of Paracin, forty-five miles from Nish, announced the war office. With Paracin, the neighboring villages of Cuprija and Tresnjevica and 1,500 Serbian prisoners fell into Austro-German hands. The drive, which has now reached Paracin, is the Austro-German movement, and not the Bulgarian advance on Nish from the northeast, marked Thursday by the fall of Nishkavolo, only six miles on their march southward through the Morava Valley. In the Morava Valley, heights near Arelje were captured. South of Cacak a ridge of the Jelica range was crossed. On both sides of the mountainous district of Kotlenik our troops defeated the enemy, and during the pursuit they reached th

Preparedness for military defenses through the calargement of the standing army by the addition of 400,000 trained citizens and an increased nave, and the scoring of the hyphenated Americans were the keynotes of an address by President Wilson Thursday night before the Manhattan club in the Biltmore hotel, New York. In strong terms President Wilson denounced the alien-born Americans who, swearing allegiance to America, place the welfare of this country below that of their mother nations. He explained in detail the plan for the nation's defense which will be submitted to congress, a program which includes the raising of a reserve army of 400,000 citizen soldiers, to serve three years in the army and remain three years in reserve, as suggested by Secretary of War Daniels. The president approves the plans of Secretary Garrison of the navy department. They call for a five-year building program at a cost of $500,000,000. They propose fifteen to twenty ships of the dreadnaught and battle cruiser type, nearly 100 new submarines, several swift scout cruisers, seventy torpede-boat destroyers, a proportionate number of hospital and supply ships, an adequate that the United States will never take another foot of soil by conquest and warned his hearers that a grave peril confronted the nation through the fact that the European nations have placed force above all other considerations in determining rights.

The naval consulting board, in special session in New York, has selected the committees which are to have particular charge of the various technical problems submitted to the board by the navy department. Thomas A. Edison, chairman of the board is on his way home from the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and in his absence Vice-Chairman W. L. Saunders presided. The committees and the chairmen elected are: Chemistry and Physics, W. R. Whitney; Aeronautics (including aero motors), Addrew L. Riker: Electricity, Frank J. Sprague; Mines and Torpedoes, Elmer A. Sperry; Submarines William LeRoy Emmett; Ordnance and Explosives, Hudson Maxim: Wireless and Communications, P. C. Hewitt: Transportation, Benjamin B. Thayer: Production, Organization, Manufacture and Standardization, Howard E. Coffin: Ship Construction, Frank J. Sprague: Steam Engineering and Ship Propulsion, Andrew M. Hunt; Life Saving Appliances, Spencer Miller; Aids to Navigation, Elmer A. Sperry; Food and Sanlitation, L. H. Backeland; Public Works, Yards and Docks, Alfred Craven. The compittees will meet again soon to complete their program.

A dispatch of yesterday from Athens says: "King Constantine apparently means to defy the Greek war party. When Premier Zaimis and his 'neutrality cabinet' resigned yesterday it was generally assumed immediately that ex-Premier Venizelos, the war part leader, would return to office. Today, however, the entire press and everybody in political circles had reached the conclusion that the king would dissolve parliament instead of making Venizelos premier again. Hints to this effect were said to have been given by persons close to Constantine. The result will be that Zaimis, although he has resigned, will have to hold over for at least two menths, and for that long, at least, Greece will remain neutral. An all night council of war was held by the king and the national leaders. In approval of the attitude of General Yanakitsa, war minister in the Zaimis cabinet, whose defiance of ex-Premier Venizelos' power followers in parliament precipitated the cabinet crisis, King Constatine today appointed Yanakitsa his aide-de-camp."

Negotiations between bankers in London and New York for the establishment of important new commerical credits in the United States were reported yesterday as virtually closed. An amouncement of the formation of a group of bankers to handle the matter in this country, according to reports, is expected shortly. It is understood that Sir Edward Holden, chairman of the London City and Midland Bank, has obtained from bankers in London acquisescence in the terms proposed by American bankers. One large New York banking institution yesterday advanced $20,000,000 on three-months bills to a large English bank. Other English banks, it is understood, are obtaining funds in this country in a similar manner. The form of the new credits has not been definitely settled, but indications are that they will be arranged partly through straight bank loans and partly through acceptances on London banks.

Before the great European war began Vladivostok had more than 100,000 inhabitants. Today its population is less than 75,000, so heavy have been the calls of the Russian army upon the men of eastern Siberia. The latest summons will take 10,000 from Vladivostok alone. These new recruits are being sent away at the rate of 1,000 a day. Many of them are badly needed in Vladivostok to help take care of the war supplies which are glutting the port. But the call of the army is unqualified. Trained and untrained men alike of military age, men of all classes, are being sent away daily to interior Siberia, where they will go into training, replacing others now ready to go to the front.

Vesavius is again in violent eruption. Several villages are threatened by advancing lava streams. Panie-stricken by their danger, people are fleeing from towns and vineyards in the mountain's vicinity. The roads are filled with fugitives carrying their household effects. Local officials have asked for troops to aid the refugees and prevent looting, but the military authorities, in view of their requirements on the Austrian fighting front, are unwilling to spare soldiers unless the situation becomes extremely serious. The whole country surrounding the volcano is mantled by a thick coating of ashes.

A Copenhagen dispatch says: The Ribe Stifts Tidende, the leading newspaper on the German frontier, publishes a letter from a German officer who was present during the French offensive in Champagne from September 25 to 27. The officer writes that the Germans came within an acc of total disaster and had fully prepared to leave their second line. Their artillery had been prepared and the infantry was ready to march off when the lombardment suddenly ceased. Had it lasted another two hours, the situation, which was then indescribably critical, would, the officer says, have developed into a complete rout.

THE RUNNING OF THE CESAREWITCH.

Yesterday's anniversary of the famous event did not establish a fresh record in the matter of attendance, but, taking everything into consideration, the gathering was quite satisfactory, among those present seeing many of the leading patrons of the tondiers seeing many of the leading patrons of the solfiers are again entertained, and that they appropriated the opportunity of witnessing an afternoon's racing, with a Cesarewitch thrown in, was obvious. Few of these at any rate would advocate the further curtailment of the sport. That, however, by the way.

The great event of the day was generally regarded as of an unusually open character, although of course, one met the born optimists who vowed that their own particular fancy could not help winning, or words to that effect, The field, which numbered thirty-one, was the largest since 1873, in which year Lord Lonsdale's King Law won from thirty-three rivals. Yesterday's competitors included three previous winners of the race in Warlingham, Fitz-Yama and Troubadour, awhich only the last-named was really fancied to achieve what no animal has yet accomplished—win the race on more than one occasion. Others which had previously run with distinction in the handicap were Grave Greek and Green Falcon—the respective conds in the two preceding years—and Gravelotte. Classic form was represented by Ballaghtohin, the Irish Derby winner, and Snow Marten, which had triumphed in the substitute Oaks.

The last-named, as anticipated, retained her position at the head of the quotations, winding up at 7 to 1, while Sir Thomas, which could lay claim to two consecutive victories in races over a long distance. was next in demand at a point longer odds. It was apparent that Eau Claire which latterly had been frequently 'whispered nas a not unlikely winner—was a live candidate, which the books were opened some weeks ago. Son-in-Law had, however, been interrupted
